

December Supplemental Learning

We all know that children love to receive gifts, but we often forget that they also like to give gifts, too.

Being able to “give back” to those less fortunate than us this Christmas can make our communities and our world, better places for everyone.

Doing something charitable at Christmastime can be a wonderful holiday tradition with your child.

Don't play with that toy anymore? Can't fit into some of your clothes? Donate them! Better yet, get your friends and family together and ask for donations of much needed items, collect them and drop them off.

Local organizations like Mary's Shelter or Berks Women in Crisis are wonderful choices and they are always looking for donations. Check out their websites below:
